Brisbane Holds Key to San Bruno Mt. Fill Transport

By FRANK LA PIERRE

The successful transporting of fill material from San Bruno Mountain to a site between San Francisco Airport and the Hayward-San Mateo Bridge depends on the co-operation of the small city of Brisbane.

Warren Lindquist, of Westbay Community Associates and a representative of David Rockefeller, disclosed this week that a huge covered conveyor belt would be used to move the tons of rock and sand from the top of the mountain down to waiting barges off Sierra Point.

In order for the belt to be installed an "air easement" would be necessary from both Brisbane and the State Division of Highways (the conveyor would pass over the Bayshore Freeway).

But on March 21, 1967, Brisbane unanimously passed resolution 323 supporting Burlingame in that city's determination to "preserve the open waters of San Francisco Bay."

The Brisbane council expressed the feeling that by supporting the "open waters" resolution they would be protecting San Bruno Mountain, the source of the needed fill material.

In the resolution the council pointed out "the representatives to the Bayfront Task Force from Burlingame have consistently maintained a position of keeping the Bay waters unfilled in the jurisdiction of Burlingame, and have consistently denied approval of plans to fill San Francisco Bay.

"The main source of fill material proposed by Westbay Community Associates has been specified as the top 600 acres of San Bruno Mountain which touch the city limits of Brisbane. Any removal of San Bruno Mountain would adversely affect the clean, sunny climate and therefore the general welfare of all the people of Brisbane," the resolution said.

The council urged that the tidal plan policy adopted by Burlingame be "staunchly defended" and that no fill plan be discussed by the council which might violate the resolution.

Lindquist, outlining the Bay fill development plan for the 3,000 acres of tidelands near the airport, said the fill material would come from the "east nose" of the huge mountain.

"We would get the fill from approximately 600 acres of the mountain in this area and would not disturb any of the ridgelines," Lindquist said.

Without approval from Brisbane, however, the entire project would likely have to be scrapped, Lindquist said "because this is the most economical method of transporting the fill material."

Leonard Stefanelli, head of both the Sunset Scavengers and Golden Gate Disposal Companies told The Times that an agreement with the Crocker Land Company had been made "some time ago" for use of the southern dike wall at the Sierra Point dumping ground for installation of an overhead conveyor.

Masonheimer Didn't 'Intend to Belittle' Pacifica Employees

A Strike Threat Reported

By DON GRIERSON

Pacifica City Mgr. C. W. "Bill" Masonheimer has apologized for a statement in his budget proposal which reportedly precipitated a near walkout by public works employees last week.

In an interview, Masonheimer said, "The entire matter was the result of a misunderstanding, and I certainly did not intend to belittle the work of Pacifica's excellent employees."

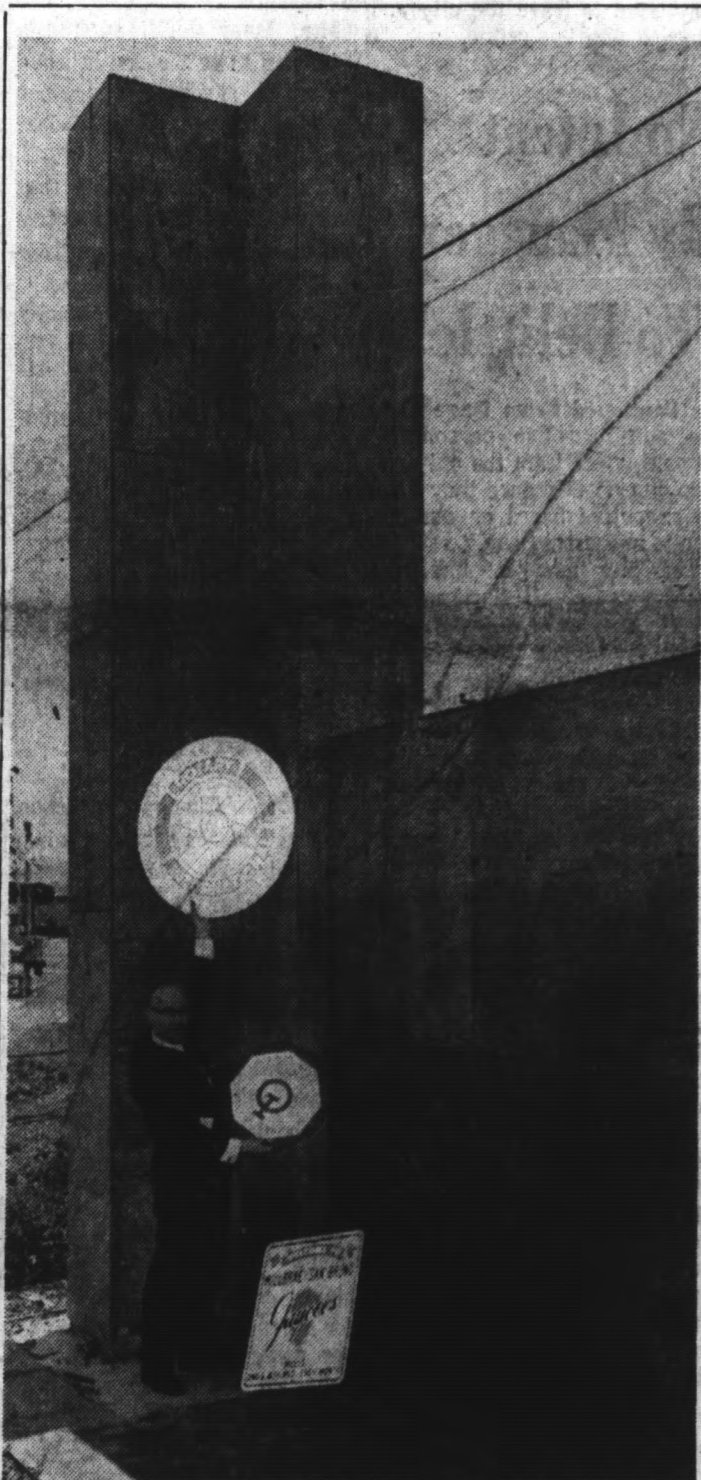

"I have inadvertently given anyone the impression that I consider these men and women anything other than capable, dedicated and essential contributors to the good and welfare of this city, then I sincerely wish to apologize," he said.

A furor arose among employees last week after Masonheimer stressed the contributions of "upper echelon" administrative personnel in the introduction to his 1967-68 budget proposal.

"Certainly, the ability and dedication of rank and file employees is outstanding and fully appreciated," the introduction stated. "It is possible, however, to hire many well qualified people in most of these classifications, but the hiring of well qualified administrative and professional personnel is very difficult."

Masonheimer said the statement, "hastily couched during the stress of the budget preparation," was intended as a commendation for the city's department heads and supervisors, "and not as a slam at the other employees."

"Someone has to speak for (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

SAN BRUNO C of C Manager Dick King holds some of the civic club emblems which will be displayed on the new "gateway monument" under construction at the intersection of San Bruno Avenue and San Mateo Avenue. The monument, to be covered with "blasted rock," will depict San Bruno's "Airport City" motif.

700 Attend Fair On Hunt for Job

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

Over 700 Daly City and Pacifica youths took advantage of the all-day Youth Opportunity Fair Saturday at Daly City's War Memorial building.

Sponsored by Community Interaction Through You, a local human relations group, the fair was presented as an effort to help teens in search of summer or permanent jobs.

The fair was held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Rev. Howard Bryant, co-chairman, explained the fair was "primarily informational."

Daly City Councilmen Francis Pacelli and Anthony Giamoli welcomed the youths on behalf of Daly City.

After the opening ceremony, participants browsed through the fair.

Sixteen tables, representing various community youth employment agencies, local colleges and local employers offered booklets and brochures.

Representatives running the tables answered questions.

In the afternoon, local employers interviewed teens for a few available summer job openings.

Civil Service Commission and Daly City Post Office tables provided applications for the Civil Service Test.

The Youth Opportunity Center tables featured booklets with helpful hints on how to get jobs.

A skit on the do's and don'ts of job interviews, presented by the Jefferson High youth, and two movies on job opportunities were shown during the day.

Miss Smallwood said "it is harder for these teens to get employment." Mrs. Molley Weintraub, planning chairman, added "the main fair object was to develop a broader recognition of the youth employment problem in the community to get young people and business to help each other find ways to meet the problem."

Nun In Escape From Car

A 44-year-old San Francisco nun who didn't panic, escaped injury at 5:15 p.m. Monday when her 1964 model car was demolished by a Southern Pacific commuter train in San Bruno.

Theresa Julia Baumann, a Dominican sister at St. James Parish of 1212 Guerrero Street, San Francisco, fled her car after it stalled on the tracks.

San Bruno patrolman William A. Martin, who saved a child at the same railroad crossing earlier this year, also attempted to start the vehicle. Unable to do so, he reached safety just seconds before the crash.

Police said the nun was east-bound on San Bruno Avenue. A portion of her car remained on the tracks because of backed-up traffic in front of her when the crossing signals sounded.

The cars ahead, however, began moving before the train, of which Vincent Allen of 912 (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

San Carlos Woman Wins 'Top' Contest

A San Carlos mother of eight children claimed the $50 cash prize this week in the "Why I Think The Times Is Tops" contest.

Mrs. Norbert Meyer, 1071 Sunset Drive, claimed the prize in the third week of the "Tops" contest with her letter describing how the whole family uses The Times in their daily life.

The Meyers started taking The Times nearly 20 years ago when they first took up residence in San Mateo County.

Meyer is an estimator for Moroney Construction Company. The children, ranging in age from 4 to 19 years, all use The (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Foley Joins D.A.'s Staff

James Foley of Pacifica, who overcame a crippling attack of polio at the age of 11 months to become a lawyer, is the newest member of Dist. Atty. Keith C. Sorenson's staff.

Foley, 41, of 360 Esplanade, started work last week in the civil division of the office. Sorenson said he will be assigned as counsel for several school districts and county government departments.

Foley, who gets around in a wheelchair, has been an attorney since 1962. A native of Vicksburg, Miss., he got his bachelor's degree at the University of Portland and his law degree at University of San Francisco. He has been in private practice in Pacifica.

Jeff's Insurance Rates Up—3 Fires

Insurance rates for the Jefferson Elementary School District will double this year because of heavy losses from fire, burglary and vandalism during the past 12 months, a school official reported last week.

Roger Barthuli, assistant superintendent for finances said that insurance agents servicing the district have informed him present annual premiums totalling $23,500 "will increase to at least twice that amount when the policies come up for renewal July 1."

"And the only way we can get a rate that low will be to negotiate contracts with the present carriers in lieu of accepting bids," he said.

The primary losses contributing to the district's "high risk" insurance rating were three fires at Colma Elementary School during the past year which resulted in $100,000 damage to the buildings.

"The fact that these three fires almost certainly resulted from arson is the clincher," Barthuli said. "Most insurance companies do not want your business at any price."

Including losses from liability and burglary, the district's in- (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Sea Lion Killed On Freeway

A 300-pound sea lion which somehow got onto the Bayshore Freeway near the San Bruno overpass was struck and killed by a vehicle shortly before 11 p.m. Monday.

In a memorandum report, Highway Patrol Sgt. Jay Flynn said the sea lion, turned temporary land lion, was found dead in the second inside lane of the freeway at 10:55 p.m. by Patrolmen John Risley and John Hoffman.

The sea lion, which apparently had made its way from the bay some two miles away, was facing in a westerly direction, its destination unknown, Flynn reported.

That the sea lion was roaming the area was reported to South San Francisco police at 10:15 p.m. by employees of the United Air Lines maintenance at International Airport, who spotted the animal in the area.

Flynn said the sea lion, to reach its fated destination, would have had to cross the airport runways, the maintenance base, Old Bayshore Highway, and a field to reach the freeway, then cross three traffic lanes, including the San Bruno overpass on-ramp. It was 50 feet west of the east edge of the north-bound lanes when it was struck, the sergeant reported.

The driver of the vehicle which hit the sea lion didn't stop. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Peninsula Humane Society.

Flynn, who took some ribbing from fellow officers while making out his report, noted that it was "soberly submitted."

Addition In S.S.F., Daly City

Construction of new courtrooms for both South San Francisco and Daly City has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

The first of three courtrooms to be completed in South San Francisco will house a permanent session of the Superior Court and a session of the Municipal Court will be established in Daly City.

Daly City officials had fought for a branch of the Superior Court and are known to be unhappy with the county board because they are not getting one.

County Mgr. E. R. Stallings said today, however, that the question of what courts go where is moot. He explained that when South San Francisco reached a population of more than 40,000 it was automatically qualified for a branch of the Superior Court. The law states that any city of 40,000 or more that is 10 miles from an existing court is entitled to a branch.

Daly City, although it subsequently reached the 40,000 figure, is not entitled to a branch, Stallings said, because it is not (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Money Voted For Summer Work Scheme

A special summer work program for San Mateo County youth has been approved by the Board of Supervisors.

The board budgeted $23,841 to get the program started and indicated that an additional appropriation will be made if the program requires it.

The money will cover the hiring of 50 boys and girls for 10 weeks. County Manager E. R. Stallings suggested, however, that in order to spread the work it might be advisable to hire on a five-week basis. He said he hoped that several hundred boys and girls could be helped on that basis.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO'S loveliest young ladies began an intensive training program this week in preparation for the July 1 "Miss South San Francisco" pageant. The pageant, sponsored by the city's Chamber of Commerce, will be held in the El Camino High School Little Theater. Dolly Schumacher Drew, a former "Miss South San Francisco," is pageant director. Entrants in the 1967 pageant, left to right, are: seated, Linda Della and Dorothy Lahey; standing, Margie Drake, Kathy Murphy, Carol Funai, Barbara Dickson and Birdie Abeyta. (Post Photo)

Courts Building Money Budgeted

The board agreed to proceed immediately with planning and construction of three new courtrooms adjoining the existing courthouse in South San Francisco.

One of the courtrooms will be completely finished right away to be ready for the assignment of a Superior Court judge on a permanent basis. At the present time sessions are held there on Friday by a judge who makes the trip from Redwood City.

The other two courtrooms will remain as a shell to be finished when they are needed. Stallings said $475,000 will be budgeted in the coming year for the work.

The board agreed to budget $50,000 to hire an architect to begin planning of the court project in Daly City. The county plans to enter into a joint exercise of powers agreement with the Jefferson High School District for the construction of a building in the Daly City Civic Center to house school district and county offices.

Man Beaten With Chain In Daly City

Daly City police arrested two youths last week on charges of assault with a deadly weapon after they severely beat a man with a length of chain in front of his Knowles Avenue home.

Two other suspects in the beating are still at large, police said.

The incident occurred shortly after 2 a.m. as Joseph Ursino, 27, of 445 Knowles Avenue, was returning home from San Francisco.

Ursino said the youths had begun trailing him in San Francisco and jumped him as he parked his car at the corner of Knowles Avenue and Willits Street.

DALY CITY flag-pole sitter Gloria Reynolds gave up her attempt to beat the 155-day "sitting record" Saturday night after spending only 13 days on her 50-foot perch. Mrs. Reynolds said she quit because of disagreement over a contract arrangement with her sponsor, Klean-Away Villa. A spokesman for the dry-cleaning firm said Mrs. Reynolds resigned because of illness.

Poodle Sues Pacifica; He Stood Too Close to Hydrant

A poodle and his owner are suing the City of Pacifica for damages incurred when the dog inadvertently utilized a freshly painted fire hydrant and ruined his coiffure.

Mrs. Mary Coniff entered a $30 claim after the dog brushed against a hydrant near her Claridge Drive residence last week.

"There was no sign on that hydrant, and I contend the city was negligent and inconsiderate of my dog," she said.

The dog had been recently coiffured at a cost of $30, she said, "and now his whole left side is yellow."

Councilmen referred the matter to the city's insurance carriers Wednesday, after City Attorney Conrad Reich pointed out the claim is deficient "because it has not been established the dog could have read a wet paint sign had the city posted it."

"Also, it can be argued the dog did not exercise reasonable care in that he stood too close to the hydrant," Reich said.

No Intent By Manager 'To Belittle'

(Continued From Page 1) the administrative personnel," he said, "and I am the only one who can do this since they have no executive board or association to represent them."

The city manager has also taken steps to alleviate several other grievances presented in an emergency personnel meeting Friday.

Employees have expressed opposition to his proposal to withhold a week's salary next month in order to achieve a "batklog" for accounting purposes.

He has decided to postpone indefinitely any action on this matter, "though it will have to be done sooner or later."

He is promised to provide a "cost of living" or general upward adjustment raise for all employees, "but the city is simply not financially able to meet the recommendations of the personnel board."

The personnel board has recommended an over-all raise of 2 1/2 per cent, with larger increases in some categories.

In addition, the manager has assured employees they will be given first consideration for filling vacancies and new positions in higher job classifications as they arise.

Tools Stolen At Capuchino

San Bruno police are investigating the theft of about $1,000 in various shop tools from Capuchino High School.

Jeff Fires: Insurance Rate Upped

Insurance claims have been "almost prohibitive" during the past year, he said.

"The district might have to install burglar alarm systems and retain a private patrol service for the schools in order to purchase insurance coverage at any reasonable price," the financial assistant said.

The board authorized Barthuli to negotiate with the agencies now servicing the district, Markovich Insurance and the Lagomarsino Agency.

Trustee Peter Galiano voted against confining the business to two agencies, noting "there are 13 or 14 agencies in the district."

In the past, the board has taken bids from all the local agencies and accepted the lowest rates, he said.

Mother of 8 Wins Contest

"I think The Times is Tops . . . because we have never thrown away a whole Times. Something is always cut-out—news, entertainment, enlightenment. As the children grab their lunch, they also grab political cartoons, editorials, sports articles. Questions the children ask are answered. We learn, we grow, we thrive. We're kept alive! By The Times."

Entries for this week's contest must be turned in by 5 p.m. this Thursday to compete for the $50 cash prize.

Laguna Sets Safety Patrol Recognition

The annual Laguna Salada School Safety Patrol Recognition Day will be held at the Seavue Theater June 3 at 10 a.m.

Once each year, all members of the school patrols are given a special program in their honor.

Superintendent Fred Lucas, vice mayor Harland Minshew, police chief Neil Tremaine and a representative of the San Bruno Police Department will greet more than 300 boys and girls and thank them for their services in safeguarding other youngsters at hazardous street crossings near their schools.

A special movie program has been donated by the Pacifica Lions as part of their continuous support for school safety patrols. The theater furnishes its facilities as a community service, and PTA parents act as ushers and ticket-takers.

Nun Safe In Train Crash

Chestnut Street, San Jose, was engineer, reached the crossing. But the nun's car would not start, and she left the vehicle, going to the safety of a sidewalk about 100-feet away.

In the meantime, Officer Martin, who was directing the peak commuter traffic at San Bruno and San Mateo Avenues, saw the trouble at the crossing.

Martin reached the crossing as the gates came down, blocking movement of east and west-bound traffic.

He checked to make sure there was no one in the car and unsuccessfully attempted to start the vehicle.

He jumped clear of the oncoming southbound passenger train just a few seconds before the impact, which knocked the vehicle about 54-feet down the tracks.

Pupil Shift 'Approved' By Parents

The Jefferson Elementary School District's proposal to shift six seventh grade classes from Benjamin Franklin School to the Fernando Rivera School next year has met with the approval of "90 per cent of the parents who will be affected," Supt. Frank Greenwood reported last week.

Greenwood said representatives of his office have met with parents of sixth grade students at Vista Mar, Westlake, Fernando Rivera and Christopher Columbus Schools to discuss the proposed switch, and "the idea has been very well received."

"The seventh grade program offered in the new Fernando Rivera School will be essentially the same as the classes terminating at Benjamin Franklin," he said.

The six classes are being transferred because of crowded conditions at Benjamin Franklin.

Tautenhahn Is Skyline President

Fred Tautenhahn, owner of Fred's Westlake Shell, was re-elected for the third consecutive time as president of the Skyline Plaza Merchants' Association.

Others elected at last Thursday's banquet at the new Southern restaurant in South San Francisco, were Ray Forcina, Skyline Plaza painter, vice president, and Peter Curach of Crocker-Citizens Bank, treasurer.

Fifty persons heard a short talk by Tautenhahn, who stressed the importance of small businesses staying current and competitive, because the small business world is changing from day-to-day.

Among the guests was Jack Kendree, vice president of Doelger Corporation.

The advertising committee was also selected. Stan Levy, Skyline Hardware; Ray Forcina, Fred Tautenhahn, Chris Morgan, of Chris Shoes and Frank Smith of Magic Chef Delicatessen.

Tautenhahn reported the merchants' Lucky License campaign, now in its sixth week, is regarded as a success.

S.S.F. Bandit Steals $140 At Gunpoint

A masked gunman held up Lenney's Mobil Station in South San Francisco, shortly before closing time late last week and fled with more than $140 after locking the attendant in a washroom.

Night manager John L. Guy, 17, told police the gunman walked through the open service station door, poked a gun in his back and said, "Take it easy—you know what to do next."

Guy was counting the day's receipts when the man entered. After cleaning out the cash box, the gunman ordered Guy to lie down in the washroom "and count slow to 200 before leaving."

Police said the gunman apparently fled on foot.

Earlier, at 10:30 p.m., a gunman armed with a snub-nosed revolver held up the Cala Foods Market at 1 Hillside Boulevard in Daly City, and fled with an undisclosed amount of cash.

The market has been held up several times in recent months.

Water Rate Hike Seen For Bruno

An increase in San Bruno water service rates will "almost certainly" be necessary to finance the city's water system between now and 1980, City Manager Gerard S. Vergeer said last week.

Councilmen Monday instructed Vergeer to determine the necessary rates to finance an estimated $1.9-million investment in the water system recommended in a recently completed survey report.

"It is too soon to determine exactly what will be needed in the way of rate increases," Vergeer said, "but some increases appear inevitable at this point."

A report submitted last week by a Palo Alto consulting firm recommends a rate increase of 87 per cent for residents in the eastern section of the city, served by San Bruno wells, and a 10 per cent increase in the western area, where water is purchased from the city of San Francisco.

However, water users could get some relief if a portion of the needed money is taken from the city's capital improvement fund, Vergeer said.

Residents in the eastern area of the city are currently paying $2.25 per month, while those in the western area pay $4.35.

The consulting firm's proposals would equalize the rates somewhat, with residents of the eastern area bearing most of the rate increase.

"There has been some discussion of the inequitable water rates," Vergeer said, "but the present rates are fair in one sense, because it simply costs more to provide water in the western sections."

He said the water purchased by residents of the western areas is also of "better quality" than that provided by the city's wells, and requires no treatment for "softening."

"Many of the residents purchasing water at the lower rate must bear the additional expense of treating it with chemicals," he said.

PAIR RETIRED

Two of three noncommissioned officers honored in retirement ceremonies Monday at the Presidio of San Francisco were Sgt. Maj. Harold E. Gay of 1112 Fessler Avenue, Pacifica; and SFC Charles R. Hessley of 427 Heathcliff, Pacifica.

Literature On Tourism Distributed

Mayors, City Councilmen and Chamber of Commerce officials throughout San Mateo County were mailed last week the first literature in what is said to be the largest campaign ever launched to bring tourists and convention visitors to this area.

The literature, which is "just off the press" according to Duane McDowell, executive director of the San Mateo County Fair and Convention Association, includes a three-color brochure with matching envelope, a special imprinted cover for banquets and programs plus a registration packet envelope.

All use the theme of "Fiestaland — On the San Francisco Peninsula" as describing the scenic, cultural and recreational assets of the county.

The brochure is graphically illustrated with a lavish use of photos, drawings and a double-page map, while the program cover carries the same scenic county view. The matching gold and white theme is carried out on the registration envelopes.

The literature distribution — which will be primarily conducted through Chamber of Commerce and tourist industry outlets — is the first phase in a rapidly expanding campaign to capture San Mateo County's share of the multi-million dollar tourist and convention market.

An energetic direct mail campaign is also being launched now to bring the new literature into widespread use on local, state and regional levels.

These new sales tools are being supplemented by a new Manual of Operations and an informational color slide presentation available to civic, industry, and club groups.

McDowell also pointed out that the Fair and Convention Association has established an extensive program of servicing conventions, meetings, and conferences in Fiestaland with a staff of registrants, plus delegate badges.

All of this will be followed up, McDowell said, with extensive advertising in selected newspapers and magazines "in order to stimulate the growth of tourism and its economic benefit to our county's citizens."

Wednesday, May 31, 1967

He concluded by noting that the Association's program is "purely promotional since we are acting as the press agents for Fiestaland — and all its many scenic attractions."

THE PENNEY STORY

*The day we found out
Mr. Penney's secret*

By ROBERTA NASH

One day last winter we were up in Mr. Penney's office when one of his associates said to him, "You never seem content with things as they are, Mr. Penney. You always seem to want something better."

Then we all laughed.

Because we knew that was exactly the reason Penney's was so very successful.

COMMENTPress, People
And the News

Effective evaluation of political figures by the public, and the opportunity to correct abuses and strive for a more representative government—a government truly responsive to the wishes of those it represents—can be achieved only by the adoption and preservation of two cardinal rules of political conduct.

The first is that the voters must be as free from governmental influence or organizational pressure as is humanly possible in the selection of those they choose to act as their servants in public office, no matter how minor that role may be. Political parties, when true to the principles for which they profess to stand, serve this purpose in offering divergent political views and a choice of candidates.

The second rule is that voters must have easy and unhampered access to activities in every governmental office, barring those few legitimately exempted under defense secrecy. The Bill of Rights is headed by an article guaranteeing freedom of the press, peaceful assemblage and redress of grievances. Individual citizens, to whom governmental officials are accountable, obviously find it a physical impossibility to oversee the activities of those they have placed in office. They therefore have placed their confidence in newspapers to report the daily happenings of government to them.

This confidence is a challenge eagerly accepted by the nation's press, in its role as the primary defender of the public's right to know and as the foremost challenger of those who would deny any citizen this right.

Berman's
'Locked In'

Barbara Bladen

Shelley Berman is a consummate actor but proving himself to the public and especially the producers isn't easy.

"They got me locked in," he remarked ruefully recently on the deck of the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. He meant as a comedian, he's having a difficult time proving his talents in other areas.

"They (the producers) wanted me to play 'Man For All Seasons' in summer stock, but told me, 'Shelley, we'd never be able to sell you.' Ironically, they're giving me a chance as a director next fall with a play called, 'Beer Island,' starring Van Heflin."

That doesn't mean he's forsaking the nightclub circuit. He's packing them in these nights at the hungry i and intends to do a few television and club appearances up until his Broadway commitment. After that, fate (and money) will decree in which direction his career will lead.

"The play is a comedy written by Ira Wallach who wrote, 'Absence of a Cello,' and a series of books called 'Hop-A-Long Freud' in the forties. It's about a guy who goes to battle against established tyranny. He wins an island, people it himself, and finds he's got to defend it against exploitation."

BERMAN GIVES THE IMPRESSION of being an intellectual. He's a new breed of comedian who denies the existence of comedy, or drama, and doesn't respond to labels.

"I see no distinction between comedy and drama. Either it's theater or it isn't. Either it's a performance or it isn't. If I must call myself something, which I hate to do, it's a comedian. I've failed to be an actor, you know what I mean, but I have a strong desire to return to the theater."

The legitimate stage is passing through a period where dancers and choreographers have turned to directing. And they've made quite a mark. Consider the contributions of Gene Kelly, Joe Layton, Jerome Robbins, Bob Fosse. Now the comedians are moving into that sphere. There's Berman, Mike Nichols, Woody Allen and soon, Allen Sherman. I've always felt that behind any artistically successful comic there was a dramatic actor or strong director. Berman has directed before but this is his first venture on Broadway.

"My last acting job lasted through three weeks of rehearsal and an out-of-town tryout. 'The Unemployed Saint,' was the show and I learned a great lesson in directing, acting, and show business in general from that experience."

HE'S A SUPERB HUMORIST. But it takes time to write and he's finding less and less of that. He's written several television pilots and is negotiating to write another. "I have a part of a play already written and it's not a comedy," he revealed.

He claims it's "out of the question to sit down and write all new material for an album," and besides, his attentions are turning toward the theater "revolution," that's taking place in America.

"I interviewed 500 actors for 'Beer Island,' all of whom learned their craft in regional theater and who had never done a Broadway show. If regional theater is giving us good actors, maybe in time it will give us original plays."

Politicos in Daly
City Are 'Miffed'

Frank LaPierre

DALY CITY POLITICIANS are miffed over the recent disclosure that a muni court will be set up in that city — and not a superior court. Some officials expressed the feeling that Supervisors Jean Fassler and Bob St. Clair "sold 'em down the river" for the deal. They charge commitments were made for installing the court in South City several years ago, when that city was larger — population wise — than D.C.

These same politicians feel the decision to install a muni court (which is needed) in D.C. and a superior court next to the SSF muni court is economically offbase because the superior court requires its own staff from top to bottom and a whole new muni system will have to be set up in D.C.

Why not expand the muni facilities in S.S.F. and set up a superior courthouse in D.C., they asked, and asked and asked??? Two things they haven't gotten: a superior court and an answer to why not! But they have their suspicions as to why not. . . .

IT DOES LOOK LIKE Daly City will get that County Service facility they've been after for some time. It CAN'T COME TOO soon. With the population soaring in this part of the county, the building is sorely needed.

BETCHA CAN'T GUESS how much cottage cheese a small roach eats? According to the manager at Daly City Lyon's Restaurant about 35 cents worth. At least that's how much he took off our bill the other noon when one of the lively critters popped up in our salad. Yes, we know, we know . . . they don't eat much.

ANTHONY R. (TONY) THOMAS is off to put in a one year stint with VISTA in the Buffalo, New York area. An 18-year resident of the Westlake area of Daly City, Tony was chosen as "Outstanding Senior" at Westmoor High in 1963 and was named to football's 1962 "All-San Mateo County" first team. VISTA (in case you didn't know) stands for Volunteers In Service To America.

RUMORS DEPARTMENT — Watch for a night harness race track to up on the SP property (formerly dump site) near Brisbane.

SORRY ABOUT THAT In an article we said "Food Machinery Corporation (FMC)" Comes a letter from R. Richard Moran of FMC's public relations staff which simply says "FMC" means "FMC" and nothing else. "In mid 1961 Food Machinery and Chemical Corporation changed its name. . . ." Moran points out.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE that someone stole an $18 golf trophy out from under the watchful eyes of Al Sola at Cypress Hills Golf Course the other day? It happened while Al, invitational tournament chairman, was talking with the treasurer — less than five feet from the table where the gleaming cups were being displayed. Now we ask: How LOW GROSS can you go? Bring it back!

IF YOU WANT A FIRST CLASS summer replacement, hire a school student from either Westmoor or Jefferson, Westlake Shopping Center's Jim Trevor advises. A phone call to Ernest Ribera (Jefferson) or Glen South (Westmoor) and, presto, a willing worker (many who could use that extra cash).

OH THE SHAME — Doubleday Publishing Company's "California Information Almanac" lists the Cow Palace as being on the rim of San Francisco in SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO. Wake up Daly City, didja know this?

SINCE "YOURS TRULY" let a photo of his hands appear on the front page of the last issue of The Post, a certain insurance company has made a rather handsome offer . . . But we'll do it again if we have too!

PACIFICA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'S Bernie Lake is hustling up the listings now for that group's 52-page business directory. Lake has the wheels in motion for delivery in mid-August.

The directory includes Pacifica merchandising and service ads., plus a listing of all firms, city, state, federal and county service information pertinent to the coast-side municipality. Initial response has been good but Lake is pushing against his own time deadline, sandwiching his calls upon merchants with his many other activities.

DALY CITY Police Sgt. Robert M. Stables received the Peninsula Peace Officers Association meritorious award for outstanding performance of duty Saturday night. Stables was presented a trophy and citation for his heroism Dec. 24, 1966, when he single handedly disarmed a gunman threatening a Daly City neighborhood.

THE CIRCLE STAR Theatre in San Carlos has "The Boyfriend," with Jane Powell, going now . . . and if it's anything near in quality entertainment as last week's "Sound of Music," it'll be worth the while.

The entire family thoroughly enjoyed "Sound of Music," which starred Patrice Munsel, and more-and-more that theatre in the round "does it" for us.

THE MOBILE home show wrapped its display of trailer living away yesterday . . . but not before we were able to get ourselves wowed with how luxurious some of that mobile living can be.

Our only complaint was we couldn't find the three-bedroom mobiles we've seen other places along the way. But, that might have been because we just didn't get that far — our legs were weary just browsing through the three-dozen-and-more we did find.

Mobile home living is not a bad way of life, really — at least the many folks we know who've taken that step all comment favorably on it . . . and we know how comfortable we've been in them from time-to-time.

THOUGHTS 'N' THINGS while driving: The "confusion" of the center stripe markings on Eastmoor, near Westmoor High . . . the "pessimistic" Fairmont homeowner, trimming the grass around his front yard trees, while we groped through the soupy fog . . . the "thank you" we get at the Crockett toll bridge collectors, in contrast to those on either the Golden Gate or Bay Bridge . . . the clouds who can see better than we in the fog, whizzing by as we perk our ears for the crash that never seems to come. . . .

THE KOYUKAN Daly City Junior

Intermediate Invitational Judo Tournament will be June 4, starting at noon at Westmoor High School.

Youngest competitors will be eight years old . . . with 16 the top competitive age, according to Charles E. Vincent, Daly City Recreation Department director.

Ben Palacio, of the Koyukan Judo Club, tournament director, has the information — call 431-9314, after 7 p.m., Vincent advises.

LANDSCAPE architect Theodore Osmondson of S.F. might have the right slant on things when he decries, in a conservation mag, "Cry California," the non-use of public funds for beautifying state-aid school grounds.

A lot of blacktopping, but no beauty, Osmondson hints, is all that great!

While we admit that asphalt might indeed save a few muddy breeches, it doesn't give the youngsters the association with the beauty we think every child is entitled to.

There are a couple (perhaps more) Laguna Salada schools that could benefit from a change of heart by the state.

Some circles refer to that district as "Laguna Salad" — but that's a misnomer, since there isn't that much greenery around the schools.

W. RICK WALLIS, a federal civil engineer and also a Pacifica City Councilman, writing on behalf of the SF Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, informs us that the ASCE unit supplies speakers to various organizations.

Speakers may be had, Wallis said, on these general topics:

Brisbane's Swallows

By DON GRIERSON

The swallows came back this month, and not just to Capistrano.

The City of Brisbane, world famous now as the "town that wouldn't be buried" by San Francisco's garbage, has apparently been adopted by increasing numbers of the migratory birds.

Mrs. Julia Allemand, owner of the old Allemand Hotel on San Bruno Avenue, said there are record numbers of swallows nesting under the eaves of the building this year.

"I have been watching the birds come here each year since 1910," the 92-year-old Mrs. Allemand said, "and there are a great many more this year than there have ever been before."

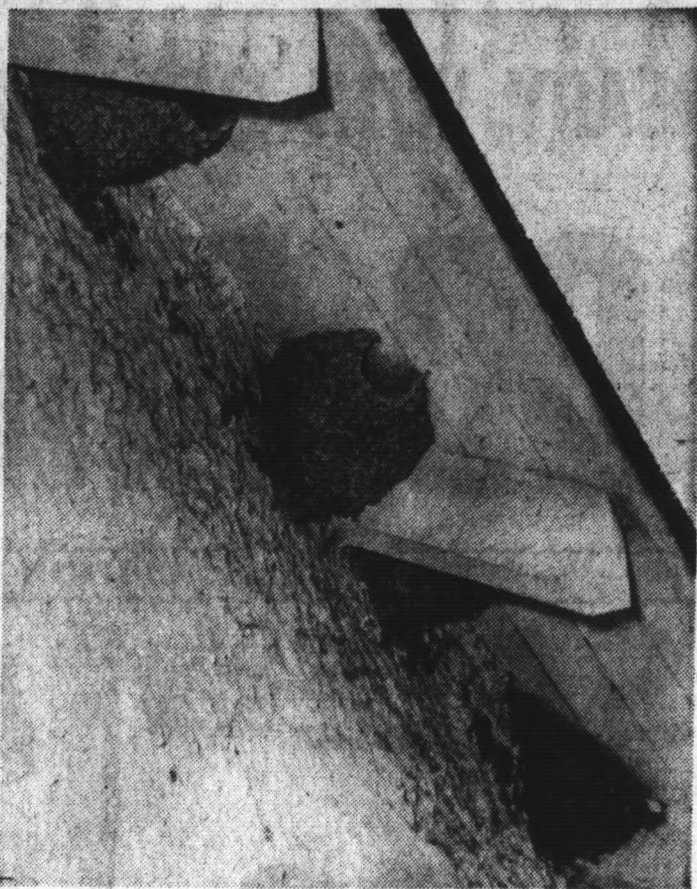

Her late husband built the hotel, one of Brisbane's oldest buildings, in 1908, and the swallows began nesting under the eaves "before the paint had dried," she said.

Speculating on the reason for the increase in number of the nesting swallows, she said "there must be more insects around Brisbane for the birds this year."

But City Manager Lanier Brady had another theory to explain the city's new appeal to visiting birds:

"They heard about the court decision against dumping garbage here," he said.

Brady also insists there has been a corresponding decrease in number of seagulls, who are notorious scavengers, accompanying

THERE ARE SCORES of these swallow nests under the eaves of the old Allemand Hotel in Brisbane this spring. Mrs. Julia Allemand, 92-year-old proprietor of the building, said there are more of the birds this spring than in any other year during the 57 years she has observed the annual migration.

the influx of swallows this in selecting a locality in year.

"The swallow is a bird with a lot of class," he said, "and exhibits considerable finesse in selecting a locality in which to rear his family."

"Seagulls, on the other hand, preferred the old Brisbane."

Works Discuss
World of Jazz

Samuel Chandler

What is jazz?

A silly question. Everybody knows what jazz is —

Who, for instance —

Thus begins Henry Pleasants' discussion of a type of music that has been called one of "America's prime contributions" to the world.

Pleasants concludes that no one knows exactly what jazz is — But nearly everyone agrees that it is "a new way of playing music, not a new music — in other words it's not what you play, but how you play it. 'Jazz,' he says, "is played with a steady, swinging, propulsive beat, supporting a rhythmic free, more or less improvisational melody, the basic melodic material being the popular song."

THIS DISCUSSION may be found in "Jam Session," an anthology of Jazz edited by Ralph J. Gleason. Among the chapter titles are "The Basis of Bop," "Portrait of a Hipster," "To Swing is to Affirm," "Jazz Is Big Business," "Spirituals, Blues, and Jazz," "A Discourse on Jazz."

Another discussion of Jazz can be found in John A. Kouwenhoven's "Beer Can by the Highway." This critic of American life writes, "Jazz is a tension of cross purpose. In jazz each player seems to be — and has a sense of being — on his own.

"Each goes his own way, inventing rhythmic and melodic patterns which, superficially seem to have little relevance to one another."

Perhaps the most momentous study of Jazz is the "New Encyclopedia of Jazz" by Leonard Feather.

It contains an historical survey of Jazz, a chronology, biographies, criticisms, and articles by Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman, and John Hammond.

Because most of this book is an alphabetical encyclopedia, it is a valuable reference tool and may be found on the reference shelves of the public library.

ANOTHER important work is David Even's "Complete Book of American Musical Theater." It is a guide to more than 300 productions of musical comedy — from these shows come many jazz themes.

Still another book is "Blues Fell This Morning" by Paul Oliver. This is a lusty history full of frank revelations and varied stories.

All of these books support Kouwenhoven's contention that Jazz is a prime American contribution to world culture.

Better Business

Guarantee Just A Word, Unless . . .

Lorene Beasley

What is a guarantee?

It is just a word in the dictionary unless it spells out the WHO, WHAT, WHERE AND HOW conditions involved. The majority of people insist upon receiving a guarantee when making a major purchase but they are usually vague as to what to expect from it.

Who makes a guarantee good — the store where the purchase was made or the manufacturer?

If you buy a known brand from a dealer you are not familiar with, be sure you understand a factory guarantee. Sometimes the factory will make good only if the merchandise is purchased from an authorized dealer. In almost all cases, the factory guarantee covers only the product. In other words, the factory will not make good if the dealer made a bad installation.

WHAT has to happen? Some guarantees promise that the guarantor will make good if it can be proved that a mechanical defect existed at the time of purchase. Other guarantees promise to make good in the event the products stop functioning.

The latter guarantee is the best as it is easier to prove a product has stopped working than to prove it stopped because of a defect at time of purchase.

Where is the product to be taken for repairs? Does it have to be returned to the seller or will it be repaired in your home? Who pays the shipping charges both ways to the manufacturer?

IS the entire product guaranteed or only certain parts? If a mechanical product, the guarantee may cover the parts, labor or both, or it may cover neither one. You are safe only if you have a guarantee in writing that a product is unconditionally guaranteed for a definite period of time.

The guarantee slip gives the length of time a product is guaranteed. BE SURE to always read the fine print.

It may say that the guarantor will fix the product free if something goes wrong during the first thirty days after purchase. You may have a plain 30-day guarantee.

A lifetime guarantee? Does this mean a product is guaranteed for as long as the purchaser lives? For example, a woman went back to get a replacement for a "Lifetime Guaranteed" muffler which had burned out. She was refused a replacement as the guarantee was for the lifetime of the muffler.

Colts and Rams Top Stars

By GARRY NIVER

Post Sports Writer

A master control artist of the mound and a youngster who flirted with a .500 batting average for most of the season head the 1967 All-North Peninsula League baseball team.

The 12-man team, headed by South SF's Bob Aurigemma and El Camino's John Castellanos, was selected by the seven NPL coaches at South San Francisco High School yesterday.

Aurigemma, who sported a diminutive 1.21 earned run average, and Castellanos, who hit .485, were named co-players of the year by the coaches.

The coaches also selected South SF's Bob Brian and El Camino's Harry Pitkoff, whose teams tied for the 1967 NPL championship, as co-coaches of the year.

Camino and Westmoor headed the mythical dream team with three selections each, followed by South SF and Jefferson with two berths. Half Moon Bay and Terra Nova picked up the remaining two spots on the All-NPL baseball squad.

Aurigemma, whom Brian described as "a splendid control pitcher," posted a 5-3 record and had 49 strikeouts and only 15 walks in 57 2/3 innings of play. Castellanos, the slugging mainstay on Pitkoff's co-champion nine, blasted three home runs and had 12 RBI's during the NPL season.

The other pitching post went to Westmoor's Steve Bach, a junior with a 5-2 record and a 1.68 ERA.

Joining Bach on the all-league team were team mates Joel Weinberg and Rick Arnott. Weinberg, a senior shortstop, hit .321, while Arnott, the utility infielder, concluded his prep career with a .342 average.

Camino's other two selections were catcher Jerry Burke and outfielder Dan Tyler. Burke, a junior, hit .390 and had seven RBI's, while Tyler scored nine times and had a hefty .343 batting average.

The Warriors, who eked out a 1-0 decision over Jeff Tuesday to tie Camino for the championship, also placed second baseman John Dougherty on the team. Dougherty, who batted .290, had a splendid fielding average of .962.

Jefferson placed junior third baseman Russ Runge and senior outfielder Lynn Hatton on the squad. Runge, who scored 11 times, was second leading batter in the NPL with a husky .406 mark. Hatton, who had 10 RBI's and two homers, hit .314.

Outfielder Jerry Mullins became Half Moon Bay's initial first team selection on an NPL all star team in the history of the little school. Mullins, a junior, batted a lofty .375.

Mike Woodward, one-half of Terra Nova's brother act, was the fourth outfielder selected.

Noted for his defensive prowess, Woodward hit .270.

Both South San Francisco and El Camino will represent the North Peninsula League in post-season tournaments. The Colts will debut Tuesday in the highly selective Marin Champions Invitational at San Rafael.

South San Francisco will carry the NPL's colors into the Central Coast Sectional tournament for Champions at Santa Clara. The Warriors will open action against Monterey Bay League winner Santa Cruz High at 1 p.m. Tuesday in Washington Park.

The tournament is single elimination as far as the championship is concerned, but is double elimination for the other five spots to be accorded.

A FOURSOME of North Peninsula educators debated an advanced problem in calculus last week: their scores in the annual Tavern Owners Pacifica Golf Tournament at Sharp Park. The discussion was carried over to the post tournament awards banquet at Nick's Rockaway Restaurant, and if final figures were deduced, they haven't been released. Pictured, left to right, are Terra Nova Principal Hal Tonini, Jefferson High School's Dick Cotrell; Jefferson Union High School Superintendent Ed Morgan and Glenn Jones, principal at Westmoor. Ed Buller was low gross winner in the tournament with a 72, after taking the honors from Bob Dyer, who also scored 71, with a throw of the dice Fred Saloman was net winner with 69½.

ANITA JONES, left, was low gross winner in the women's division of the Pacifica Tavern Owners Association Golf Tournament last week with a score of 97. Lorraine Heiser, right, was low net winner with 76 for the 18-hole round. Other winners in the tournament were Vince Tuddone, who took the "hole in one" (tee shot nearest the pin) award with a drive six feet from the pin. Stan Rossiter and Bert Jones tied for the "special hole-in-one" award, each placing a ball ten inches from the pin. Low gross second place winner was Bob Byer, 71. Orvid Seyler took third with 72, Alexander Dreh fourth, with 73, and Al Gee, fifth, with 74. Mike Moriarty and Tom Smith also shot 74s, but were unlucky with the dice.

N.P. Athletes Win Top Honors

State JC golf champion Mike Ray became the first freshman to win the College of San Mateo athlete of the year award, presented by The San Mateo (the college's student newspaper) at the CSM spring sports awards dinner.

Four finalists behind Ray were footballer Al Namanny, soccer player Samil Deus, wrestler Dan Shelton, and basketballer Owey Williams.

Each of the finalists will receive award certificates from the Stickney Sports Foundation. Ray's award, a handsomely engraved gold calendar wristwatch, was donated by the Stickney Foundation and presented by The San Mateo editor Mike Funke.

The athlete of the year was selected by a four-man committee consisting of Athletic Director Herb Hudson, Physical Education Department Chairman Gordon Gray, Athletic Publicist Fred Baer, and Funke.

Selection criteria for the honor included recognition the athlete gave the college through athletics, plus team leadership, citizenship, and participation in two or more sports. (However no two-sport athletes were nominated by the varsity coaches this year.)

The 19-year-old Ray, a graduate of Capuchino High, was the Bulldogs' number one man as CSM took the Golden Gate Conference championship. He climaxed the season by taking the state JC title in a three-man sudden-death play-off at Monterey Peninsula Country Club. Ray's average this year was an outstanding 74 strokes.

His coach, Ray Balsley, calls him "a fine golfer with a great attitude towards his team." Mike won the San Francisco Examiner's Junior City Golf crown before coming to CSM this year.

He currently lives in South San Francisco.

Namanny, who placed second in the athlete of the year voting, was the GGC's second leading rusher behind City College of San Francisco's phenomenal O. J. Simpson. He took first team all-GGC and honorable mention All-America honors as a freshman fullback.

Namanny is a Jefferson High grad from Colma who plans to return for another year of football at CSM in the fall. He was injured for the final two games last season but still played with a broken hand.

Shelton, a sophomore graduate of Jefferson High, took second place in the 167-pound weight class in the state JC wrestling tournament and was first in the Northern California tourney.

Shelton's dual meet season record was 15-1 and his total match record 30-7 en route to winning CSM's outstanding wrestler award.

"Dan's improvement during the season was so amazing," said coach Lee Allen, "that it has been one of the most gratifying experiences of my coaching career."

Williams, the Bulldogs' 6-1 all-GGC guard, took third team all-state basketball honors after setting new CSM single season and career scoring records. He tied the Bulldog single game record of 37 points and broke the home court record with a 34-point spree.

Williams, a sophomore from Wilson High (San Francisco) and a Daly City resident, was the GGC's leading scorer also and was named to the Modesto JC tournament all-tourney team.

Records Fall In Two-Day Swim Action

Tad Hubbard broke both a national and Pacific Association breast-stroke record and swam on two winning relay teams to help Peninsula Tigers top all San Mateo County entries in San Mateo Swim Club's Class-A meet over the weekend at Serra High School.

The Tigers, coached by Gus DeGara, finished fourth in the two-day event behind Santa Clara, Alameda and Foothill. Susan Fitzgerald of San Bruno also had a big weekend for the Tigers, placing in six individual events and anchoring a 13-14-free-style relay foursome which came in third.

Susie was second in both the 100-free, 55.5, and 200-free, 2:01.4; third in both the 100-breast, 1:13.8, and 160-IM, 1:49.5; fourth in the 100-fly and sixth in the 100-back. In the relay, timed at 4:02.0, she was teamed with Debbie Daniel, Laura Skinner and Shelli Wirz, all of Redwood City.

Ken Belli of South San Francisco rated a second in the 15-17 100-breaststroke, 1:04.8; third in the 160-IM, 1:41.7, and fifth in the 200-free. With fellow townsmen Wayne Henderson and Ed Toatley, plus Pete Verity of San Bruno, Belli also participated in a fifth-place free-style relay finish.

At the Post Making Baseball More Complicated

Le Pacini

Much as we hate to admit it, we're beginning to think that baseball men are, like their football counterparts, attempting to make The Game seem more complicated than it actually is.

One San Francisco daily employs a writer for the sole purpose of his "theories." Radio and television broadcasters are forever asking the heroes of the day to give a technical explanation of what really happened during that turning point. They ask them to demonstrate techniques, "for the youngsters in the audience," as if the techniques weren't something a kid could understand.

One of baseball's most mystic practices is "third base signals." Entire legends have grown out of this relatively simple practice.

Once, long ago and for another publication, we did a piece ribbing signals from third base coaches, which read in part:

"Bald-headed Tommy Heath (late manager of the old baseball Seals) . . . was experimenting with a new method during spring training (where the Seals played many of their games in the desert) whereby he would remove his hat at certain intervals. One day a . . . plane misinterpreted the reflected sun glare from Tommy's naked cranium, and parachuted a gallon of water, a parol, and a copy of Lawrence of Arabia.

"We've never seen a more promising device than the one dreamed up by a small league manager in Texas. He gave his signals in sign language.

"It worked fine until he developed a case of nerves and began to stutter in sign language. It was getting so that by the time he got a signal off, the inning would be over. So he turned the third base box over to his assistant coach, an ex-catcher with crooked finers, fingers.

"He spoke in broken English and the only players who could understand him were the Cuban imports. . .

"His successor, old Three-Finger Brown, had a heck of a time. He could only speak in shorthand. One day he accidentally signaled a bad word, and a hep umpire came up with some sign language of his own. He gave Three-Finger the thumb and his first shower in years."

That may have been a long way of making a point, but would you believe that some technical information-starved people actually believed those stories?

When you stop to think about it, there are only four basic signals a coach can flash from third base: the take, the steal, the hit-and-run, and the bunt (with variations of sacrifice, suicide squeeze, safety squeeze and bunt-and-run).

You can virtually throw out two of those—the hit-and-run and the steal. The way most teams play baseball nowadays—boom, boom, you're dead—relatively few players are trained to be adept at such cute techniques. Most players who are good enough to be able to steal or hit-and-run with a high degree of efficiency are generally on their own in situations which call for such strategy.

That leaves the take and the bunt. Of the variations on the bunt, you can discard as practically extinct the bunt-and-run and the safety squeeze. The suicide squeeze, when it's used—which is rare—is often conveyed directly to the principals in direct conversation during time-outs, anyway.

As for the straight sacrifice and the take, those situations are usually so obvious that it would take an idiot not to realize that that signal would be about to be flashed.

What this all works out to is that maybe, just maybe, during a close game, there will be three significant and/or surprise signals flashed to players from the third base coach.

Perhaps we're cynical because of early training. This writer's father, who always used the direct approach, once managed a semi-pro team which wasn't stocked with the most imaginative players in the world. One day, in a bunt situation, he flashed his complicated sacrifice signal to a big catcher. It was a voice signal. "Make it be good." The catcher became confused. After two or three time-outs and stalling practices such as knocking mud out of spikes in mid-summer, our wise father yelled, "Oh for —, bunt the ball." The catcher nodded knowingly, bunted safely, moved the man into scoring position. The run eventually scored and the game was won. The game of baseball hadn't been damaged in any way.

All games, after all, are designed to be simple. They're a pastime, an amusement. Who wants to get rigid with thought over a game? If games weren't simple, there wouldn't be so many people who understand them. Why must there always be those few who try to make games complicated?

ONLY ONCE before have we answered a fan letter in print, that exception being because the letter provided a kick-off for an interesting column. We try to answer all answerable mail personally and privately. We make another exception now, though, for two reasons:

1) The writer included neither return address nor signature; 2) It comes out amusing and makes us look better than before the letter arrived.

The letter-writer, prefacing his/her remarks with the comment, "Have you no dictionary," proceeded to list 14 mistakes in our column of May 10, which dealt mainly with Cassius Clay and Rick Barry.

Following is a blow-by-blow box score:

There were four misspellings (one word twice), of which we'll take the blame for three (some copyreader in the office forgot to cover up for us) and admit to being a bad speller. Three (including the double-error) were plain carelessness, one we really didn't know how to spell (and we thank the writer for that), and one was a typographical error.

There were five criticized punctuation marks, of which we take the blame for one. One was carelessness on our part, one dealt with a matter of Times-Post style, and three concerned writing style and were our prerogative to use or not to use.

There was one questioned but existent word of which the reader had obviously never heard.

There were two "grammatical errors," which were within direct quotes. We merely reported what someone said.

Our reader insists that Rick Barry's 6-9, not 6-7, despite what all the official record books say.

Totaled up, the above score reads: Post, one mistake; Pacini, five mistakes; reader, eight mistakes, not counting mailing the letter.

For once, by golly, we beat a reader.

THERE is one last item. In that column we mentioned something about Barry having a pretty wife, and our reader commented, "So what?"

Now THAT we'll take all the blame for, drawing readers of such little sensibility.

South SF Is Home of Champs

South San Francisco High School is fast acquiring the reputation of being the "Home of the Champions."

When the Warrior varsity baseball team beat Jeff last week and won a share of the MPL title and the Frosh-Soph. team also acquired a share of the F-S baseball title with Westmoor and Half Moon Bay, it marked South SF's 10th and 11th championships for the school year.

The Warriors won the NPL varsity football title, the NPL frosh-soph. football title, the NPL varsity basketball title, all three divisions in NPL track and all three divisions in NPL swimming.

At last report, the Warrior co-ed fencing team is seeking to make it 12 championships.

186 Sign Up For Daly City Golf Tourney

A record turnout has been registered for the upcoming Twelfth Annual Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce golf tournament to be held tomorrow at the Lake Merced Golf and Country Club.

More than 186 persons have signed up for the event according to chamber Manager Pete Markovich.

Defending champ Ron Lucetti will be present to defend his crown along with other former winners, including Ed Castagnetto, Pete Markovich and Joe Sarto (twice Peninsula Club Champion).

The tournament is divided into three flights: Low Gross, Low Net and Blind Bogey.

There will also be a hole-in-one contest.

Vince Ferrigno Leads the Pack

By JIM GREALISH

Vince Ferrigno hit the pocket consistently in the 510 Scratch Trio as he started with 211, dropped to 178, jumped to 243 and ended with 199 for a series total of 831 to lead his fellow bowlers at Westlake Bowl, Daly City.

Condolences of the Westlake bowlers go to the family of Les Moon of the 805 Scratch League who died of a heart attack last weekend. Les had been a Westlake Bowler for the past four years.

Arlene Steinberg was the leading lady in the Starliners Doubles League as she hit a 189 high game and 706 series.

Marion Weber took home 1120 Blue Chip stamps as she led the Monday afternoon Blue Chip Bonanza. Second place went to Carmen Lewetzou with 940 followed by Dot Mize with 870 and Bertha Garcia with 790.

Wes Westfall hit a big 622 series as he led the 805 Scratch League on games of 187-202 and 233.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Bob Henry from his many friends at Westlake Bowl. Bob is recovering from a recent heart attack.

Art Michael rolled games of 203-184-202 and 223 to lead the Country Club Trio League with a series of 812.

The 560 Trio League had eight bowlers who averaged over the two hundred mark last week, led by Dave Egigian who had games of 268-225-227 and 177 for a series total of 897. Other high rollers were Ray Moore with 256-875, Bob Grout 247-827, Bill Greer 238-845, Bill McCurdy 225-813 and Frank Cotton 211-801.

Scores were high again in the Westlake Knolls League as Jesse Shay rolled 621 on games of 190-239 and 182 while Gene Tarczy shot 200-208 and 197 for a 605 series.

In the 90's Mixed Fives League, Gloria Cassinero led the ladies with 160-461 as Tom Millane topped the men with a 217 game and 543 series.

There was a tie for second place between New College Hill Market and Cypress Hills Golf Course. Winners of Second Place Rolloff are ladies from Cypress Hills Golf Course. Team members are: Capt. Rosella Intaschi, Gracia Rossa, Lil Rathe and Emily Drago.

George Chamorro led the Lake Merced Summer Handicap League on opening night with a big 244 game and 649 series.

Junior Director Marge Brown has announced a Certified

Instructor School will be held at Westlake on June 8.

The School, sponsored by the American Junior Bowling Congress will be conducted by AJBC Field Representative, Mr. Allen Todd. The course will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. For further information, call Marge at 756-5777.

Laura Olcese and Grace Pitcher led the Tuesday morning Rebels League for the week, Laura with 185-523 and Grace with a 214 game and 514 series.

Hank Fernandez led the Safeway Summer Sleepers League with a 180 game and 516 series as Arlene Saput led the ladies with 160-450.

Alex Marfei and Ed Runne were high for the week in the Mixed-Up Fives League. Alex had a 224 game and 639 series while Ed shot 233 and 612.

As the new Thursday Mixed Fours League started summer action, Terri Moore led the ladies with 179-476 and Ben Venveniste topped the men with 211 and 560.

Westlake Bowlers lost a friend last week with the untimely passing of Nate Pearlman. A great competitor, Nate was an active golfer and bowler as well as a participating member of many civic and fraternal organizations.

Congratulations to the Eva's Beauty Salon team who won the Morning Glory League championship. Team members are Capt Maria White, Kay Lynch, Gerri Lydon and Louise Preto.

Dorothy Wise, California Women's Pocket Billiards champion, will play a local "pool player" Thursday night at Town and Country Billiards in Daly City.

Stan Cleaner, manager of Town and Country, said the state women's champion will take on College of San Mateo student Russ Jordan in a 100-game exhibition beginning at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

The match is open to the public, Cleaner said, and there will be no admission.

Dorothy, Redwood City resident, will compete in the National Men's and Women's Billiard Championships in St. Louis June 26.

The Gerald J. Anselmos To Make Home in Daly City

THE GERALD ANSELMOS (Margarita Avendano)

Daly City will be the first home for Mr. and Mrs. Gerald James Anselmo who were married recently at St. Elizabeth's Church.

The bride is the former Margarita Avendano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Avendano. Gerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anselmo of Daly City.

Eloise Avendano was maid of honor for her sister, and Darlene DeMarco of Daly City served as the bridesmaid.

Ralph Anselmo was best man for his brother, and guests were seated by Raymond Avendano, brother of the bride.

The new matron attended Westmoor High School and is studying at City College of San Francisco. She has a brother, Joseph Avendano, Jr.

Graduation Luncheon Next Week

A graduation luncheon for students of the eighth grade at Garnet Robertson School will be held June 7, at noon, in the new multi-purpose room.

Working together on preparation are Mesdames Joseph Azopardi, Floyd Osterberg, and Ollie Baswell Jr., assisted by the president, Mrs. Charles Fifer.

Many students will be honored at this luncheon for outstanding achievement. Scholarship and citizenship pins will be presented.

Guests will include Miss Natalie Lipman, superintendent; Miss Dorothy Fitzgerald and Miss Gail O'Grady, principals; Nicholas Biedove, music director, and eighth grade teachers.

K. of C. Gains New Treasurer

Supreme Knight John W. McDevitt has appointed Robert Simon, of Daly City, to the position of financial secretary for Marian Council No. 3773, Knights of Columbus.

Simon has held all offices of the council, including Grand Knight. He will replace Robert Vanderputten, who recently moved from South San Francisco.

Expert On Diamonds Will Speak

A certified diamond expert and graduate gemologist, M.
Arthur Azevedo, of San Francisco, will be guest speaker at the social meeting of the Daly
City Rockhounds, June 5.

A jeweler and designer of note, Azevedo will speak on the subject, "Diamonds and Why

They are a Girl's Best Friend."

Originating with the Indian lapidaries between 800 and 600
B.C., diamond cutting advanced materially in the 15th century with the discovery of a method of polishing facets on a diamond.

The 58-facet brilliant cut we know today originated in Venice as a squarish form with rounded corners. The first round brilliants were badly proportioned and did not gain popularity until after the opening of the new mines in South Africa the latter part of the 19th century.

At that point in history the art of diamond cutting greatly benefitted from scientific study of the stone's natural properties and the round brilliant as we know it today, emerged.

Azevedo will discuss diamonds as an investment and demonstrate what makes a stone a gem, outlining the evaluation system devised by the Gemological Institute of America and give a brief description of the considerations involved in designing or redesigning jewelry.

Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting at the War Memorial building, 6655 Mission Street, Daly City, at 8 p.m.

The Rockhounds group, one of the busiest clubs in the area this week, has two major events to occupy time and energy.

Their exhibit and demonstrations at the Oakland Hobby Show June 2, 3 and 4, will include a booth showing the extent and scope of the hobby and many facets of their activities, with club members on hand to answer questions and demonstrate equipment.

Vacations Coming Up

Louanne Heath

SUMMER VACATION is only days away for the juvenile population and most of the adults are looking forward to a season of decreased pressure, fewer organized activities and a complete dirth of deadlines and schedules of the type that keep many of us chauffeur small fry from spot to spot and attempting to keep our own social obligations from interfering with junior's recital or sister's dancing lessons. Blessed summertime, when all the new officers have been elected and the retired executive boards can breathe a sigh of relief while the new officers are having second thoughts about what their duties for the fall will entail. It is a time to relax and recuperate from past exception or to take it easy and prepare for the strenuous days that lie ahead.

Among those falling into the latter category are the officers of Beta Sigma Chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha International Sorority who will be installed this evening during special ceremonies in the home of Mrs. Edward Rubek of Colma.

Mrs. Mary Edwards, the chapter's outgoing president will install Mrs. Edwin Kuehnhoff, president, and Mrs. Donald Yates, vice president, according to Mrs.
Esther Hall of Pacifica, the publicity chairman. Others who will receive their official charge of office this evening include Mrs.
Ralph Divers, recording and corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Chambers, treasurer.

Mrs. Earl Leuty of San Carlos and Mrs.
Kenneth Gadbout of Millbrae, will officially transfer their memberships to the local chapter during tonight's ceremonial meeting and Mrs. Divers will be awarded her First Pearl in recognition of her achievements during her first year of membership.

The evening will conclude with a social hour, Mrs. Hall reports.

MRS. MARGARET KERNS, the incoming president of the Holy Angels Women's Guild, was introduced during the dinner honoring outgoing guild president Mrs. Virginia Simon held earlier this month at the Castaway Restaurant at Coyote Point.

Mrs. Nan Scarpino, outgoing membership, got the evening rolling by having all the outgoing officers meet at her home for cocktails prior to the start of the "mysterious trek southward" which ended at the Castaway.
(The guest of honor was not told, in advance, where the dinner was to be held, according to word from publicity chairman Mrs. Chris Sig-le.)

Following her formal appreciation address to the guests Mrs. Simon introduced her successor, Mrs. Kerns and the entire incoming board which includes Mrs. Teresa Bernie, first vice president; Mrs. Stella Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Sigle, treasurer;
Mrs. Gen Pretti, recording secretary; Mrs.
Sandy Carroll, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ann Regan, the membership chairman.

MEMBERS OF THE Vista Mar P-TA executive board honored retiring unit president,
Mrs. Virgil Anderson, at a dinner in Val's
Redwood Room last week, according to Mrs.
Richard Lowe, publicity chairman of the group.

A unique two-foot-long wooden gavel adorned the speakers' table providing members with a novel conversation piece as well as being a clever addition to the table decor, as Mrs. Warren Zucker presented Mrs. Anderson with a token of esteem from her officers.

Among those present for the event were Miss Marjorie Tobias, principal of Vista Mar
School; Mrs. Marcel Bastien, president-elect, and her officers, Mrs. Zucker, vice president;
Mrs. David Parker, corresponding secretary;
Mrs. Stanley Pfeifer, financial secretary; and the guest of honor, Mrs. Anderson, who will be returning to the board as historian. Others present included Mrs. Frederick Stewart,
Mrs. Richard Dardi, Mrs. Robert Bobertz,
Mrs. Richard Snyder, Mrs. Billy Tweed, Mrs.
Joseph Barton, Mrs. Gordon Dettner, Mrs.
David Galway, Mrs. Glenn Gerneshausen,
Mrs. John Biagiotti, Mrs. Robert Bussani and Mrs. Lowe.

INCIDENTALLY, MRS. LOWE and her 7-year-old daughter Jill, were the hostesses at a skating party on the occasion of Jill's birthday recently and while all the children returned home safely, Mrs. Lowe is still recovering from a badly strained wrist which she sustained during the final ten minutes of skating time.

Among those present at the party were the young honoree, Jill Gibson and her brother,
Jon, and classmates Marie Bastien, Maria
Baca, Donna Inmsand and Becky Montes.

More people concerned with the agonies and ecstasy of election time are the members of the Daly City Community Chorus who will select a new executive board when they meet for the regular weekly rehearsal tomorrow evening.

The public is, as always, welcome to sit in on tomorrow's sing session and to remain for refreshments and fellowship, according to Mrs. Ann Peters.

The Chorus meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Westmoor Clubhouse, directly south of West-

Just returned from a delightful trip to Southern California for the wedding of Martha Jean Manning to Roger William Mouton are the members of the John Wuerthner family of Daly City.

Martha Jean, Mrs. Wuerthner's niece, was wed in the Lady Queen of Angeles Church in Newport Beach on Saturday and her uncle-by-marriage, Wuerthner, was the soloist at the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Mouton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Manning of Newport
Beach and her five local cousins are Mark,
Thomas, William, Richard and John Wuerthner Jr.

Baby news from two sources this week.
Mrs. Robert Elliott was the guest of honor at a baby shower in the home of Mrs.
Kay Kaufman, last week.

The Elliott family is expecting their fifth child in July.

Christopher Patrick Flatt was the name
selected for the first child of Mr. and Mrs.
Wally Flatt of Daly City.

The young gentleman, whose father is the assistant manager of the Westlake Woolworth's Store, weighed five pounds, seven ounces when he made his debut at Mary's Help Hospital on May 23.

Mrs. Madlon Flatt of Redding, Christopher's maternal grandmother, (that is right, maternal grandmother) is visiting the family and helping with the new baby.

SAY, DID A NYONE ELSE notice that the North Peninsula Circle for Florence Crittenton Home could have called an emergency meeting and had a quorum during the Civic Center dedication ceremonies?

Circle members on the podium included
Mrs. Bernard Lyett, Mrs. John Wuerthner, and Mrs. Peter Markovich. In the audience,
Mrs. Albert Polonsky, Mrs. Richard Coltrell,
Mrs. Edward Morgan, Mrs. U. R. Kendree,
Mrs. Evert Temelio, Mrs. Harry O'Neil, Mrs.
Ann Eason and Mrs. Murray Freedman.

A fashion note of real interest to the seam-stresses in the audience! When Sue Camous glided down the aisle of Holy Angeles Church to become the bride of Dwight Walker, she and all of her attendants were gownned in creations stitched by Sue's mother. No small task for a busy mother of the bride!

A sentimental touch of the past added grace to the traditional wedding cake at the Camous-Walker reception. A lovely pair of clasped hands which had rested atop Sue's mother's wedding cake, and her grandmother's before that, rested amidst an appropriate bit of wedding cake decor.

I haven't noticed any mention of its on the tances during the 3,000-meter walk in the Spartan Invitational recently. Dooley, who may be Olympics bound, finished the walk in

The round of year-end senior activities begins today as the class of '67 celebrates an extended Memorial Day holiday at the Turtle Rock Ranch for the Senior Picnic.

The Empire Room at San Francisco's Sir Francis Drake Hotel has been reserved for this Friday's TN Senior Ball, "Forever in Our Hearts." The next weekend features a senior Disneyland trip.

Still to follow are the Senior Reception, the Senior Breakfast, and, finally, the graduation exercises on June 16, which will be followed by the P-TA-sponsored Senior All-Night Party.

MEANWHILE, other activities are characterized by end-of-the-year dinners. The Executive Board dinner for this semester's members will be held next Tuesday at the Castaway in San Mateo. The Language Club went to a French restaurant, the Coq d'Or, in San Francisco last Friday night.

Speech Club members will attend an after-school awards reception next Monday in the Homecoming Department. Scheduled for next Friday is the first TIGER TALES awards dinner to be held for staff members at Meigg's Wharf Restaurant in San Francisco.

This will be a good month for restaurant owners.

CURRENT and newly elected student body officers attended an executive board meeting last week. Old-timers gave helpful hints for new officers to follow next semester.

Winner of Monday's run-off election for Commissioner of Clubs is Maria Montenegro.

THE ANNUAL class is working on a new development this year. Yearbook purchasers will receive a supplement in the mail this summer covering year-end activities. In previous years these activities have not been included in the yearbook due to early printing deadlines.

NEW CLASSES scheduled for Terra Nova next year are Creative Writing, Introduction to Humanities, Intermediate Band, Advanced Merchandising, Senior Homemaking, Biology Green Version, Sculpture, and Crafts Design Lab.

Center Plans Discussion Of Nursery School

After the outlining of summer and fall plans, questions and comments related to preschoolers will be entertained. The meeting will be held at 655 Brotherhood Way, near Daly City.

Spindrift's Play Cast Selected

Cast for The Spindrift Playhouse production of "Dracula" has been announced.

The thriller-drama story of a Continental vampire preying on an English girl is a departure from the two serious and one comedy offerings already seen in Pacifica.

Charlie Moll, a professional acting student, is in the title role. His victim, Lucy Seward, will be played either by Delaine Teahan or Ruth Sinclair. The actresses will be assigned also to the role of Miss Wells, an attendant at Dr. Seward's Sanatorium.

Dr. Seward will be played by David Albert. His Dutch medical colleague, Dr. Van Helsing, will be played by Joseph Cryan. Others in the cast and their roles are Don Ledford, Harker; Andy Laistner, Renfield; and Rex Starr, attendant.

Technical workers still are needed, according to Gerald Walker, technical director.

Nathanie Marks is director. Further information may be obtained by phoning 355-3565.

Future Business Leaders Tell Of Their Club

Five Terra Nova business students recently gave some future business teachers a few lessons on the Future Business Leaders of America.

The Terra Nova students, all members of the board of directors of the school's FBLA, met with San Francisco State students preparing to teach business to fill them in on the activities and duties of the FBLA.

They gathered at the San Francisco State College where Joseph DeBrum is a professor of Business Education.

Then the students — Patty Schuyler, Carolyn Pierce, Eric Butler, MaryAnn Walsh, Alice Shultz, and the head of the business department at Terra Nova, Mr. Gary Thompson, told of their jobs as members and sponsor of Terra Nova's FBLA.

SALAD DRESSING

When you are using sour cream as a salad dressing, you may want to add a suspicion of tarragon vinegar to it. When sour cream is called for, always use the commercial variety.

A SPECIAL COLUMN FOR PEOPLE MOVING INTO AN APARTMENT

For many people who have lived in houses all of their lives, moving to an apartment for the first time can be a hectic experience.

A problem connected with furnishing an apartment centers around how to do a good job in a smaller area.

However, because so many people having made this change in recent years, the furniture industry, backed by a great deal of successful experience, is well prepared to help you solve your problem.

As an example, in your home you perhaps had room in your bedroom for twin beds with a night table in between, a double dresser and a chest of drawers. In your smaller apartment bedroom you may solve the problem by using either a king sized bed or two twin beds placed together, either of which takes less wall space than regular twin beds. If you don't have room for both a dresser and a chest, you may find that you have enough wall space for an extra-large triple dresser and then use a chest or extra shelves in a closet.

All kinds of compact and dual-purpose furniture is made just for the use and convenience of apartment dwellers for every room — from the bedroom to the living room to the dining area, and no store is better equipped to serve these needs than we are. Stop in and see!

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500.

Vacation Ideas?

Nell Norton

Greetings, good cooks!

Here we are on the last day of May and June and summer vacations are here.

Do you have large plans for a holiday on the Riviera?

Three weeks in Hawaii?

A trip 'round the world on the USS America?

No? You've decided not to travel this year, because everyone is doing it . . . and it will be so crowded? How right you are! Who wants to join the herd?

Let's stay home and do some fascinating and fun things in our own backyard. Such as, picnic and pull weeds — or spend the summer doing those little tasks around the house that are so much fun: Painting the living room, putting fresh grout around the bathtub, sanding and repainting all the windowsills in the house. There now, aren't you glad I've given you all these peachy ideas for summer fun?

In case you don't fully appreciate these grand ideas for you vacation, grinding your teeth and starting to rip this to shreds, I'd better get on some really good ideas — such as this spicy and delicious tamale loaf.

TAMALE LOAF

- 1 pound bottom round, ground fine
- 1 can black olives, medium-size can
- 1 can whole kernel corn, No. 303
- 1 can solid-pack tomatoes, No. 2½
- 2 cups raw cornmeal
- ½ cup olive oil
- 2 tablespoons chili powder
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 onion, medium size
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- salt and pepper to taste

Combine the one-pound ground meat, can of olives, corn, tomatoes and the two-cups raw cornmeal. Add the one-half cup olive oil, two-tablespoons chili powder, two eggs, one cup milk, one chopped onion, one clove garlic, minced, two tablespoons catsup and one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Salt and pepper to taste.

It's great if your mixing bowl is one that can be used to bake in the oven. Then you just mix everything well and place in oven. Otherwise pour into a large casserole and bake very slowly, 325 degrees for one hour or until done.

SERVE that with mushroom sauce:

MUSHROOM SAUCE

- ¼ cup dried mushrooms
- 1 cup warm water
- ¼ cup olive oil
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- 2 garlic buds
- 1 large onion, shredded
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 cups tomatoes
- 1 can tomato sauce
- ½ cup water
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 whole cloves

Wash the dried mushrooms, cover with one cup warm water and let stand 30 minutes. (You may use canned mushrooms if you wish, adding the liquid also when you put them in the sauce. Or if you wish to use fresh mushrooms, clean and quarter one-fourth pound mushrooms and saute in butter.)

Heat the one-fourth cup olive oil in a skillet. Add the two whole garlic buds and black pepper. Cook until the garlic buds are brown; discard garlic buds and add the one onion, shredded, one teaspoon parsley, one teaspoon salt and one tablespoon sugar. Cook until the vegetables are wilted, but not brown.

Combine the two cups canned tomatoes, one can tomato sauce and the one-half cup water. (Rinse out the tomato sauce can with this water, don't waste one delicious drop of the sauce.) Add the one bay leaf and two whole cloves.

Add this to the vegetable mixture and simmer about 20 minutes. Finally add the mushrooms and liquid and let simmer 20 to 30 minutes longer, or until it reaches the good saucy consistency.

WITH this delish dish I'd serve a tossed salad, French bread and a light dessert such as whipped jello and these cookies.

CHERRY WINKS

- 1-3 cup shortening
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 cup sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- ½ cup seedless raisins
- 1½ cups wheat flakes, crushed
- candied cherries

Cream the one-third cup shortening, one-half cup sugar, 1-teaspoon lemon peel and one-teaspoon vanilla. Add the egg and two-tablespoons milk; beat thoroughly.

Sift together the one-cup flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon each soda and salt and add to creamed mixture. Mix well.

Stir in the one-half cup each raisins and chopped nuts.

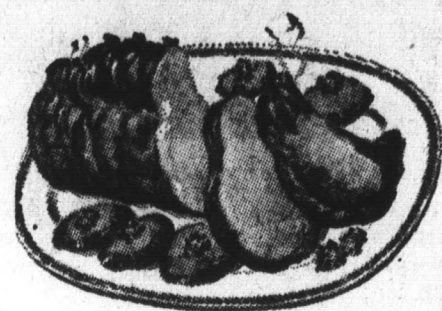

Drop by teaspoons onto crushed wheat flakes, toss lightly to coat. Place on greased cookie sheet about 2 inches apart. Top each with a candied-cherry half.

Bake in hot oven (400-degrees) about 12 minutes. Cool slightly before removing from pan. Makes about 3 dozen.

Skyline College Bids Are Awarded

San Mateo Junior College District trustees last week declared their intention to award a $5½ million contract to the firm of Engstrom & Nourse for construction of the first phase of new Skyline College in San Bruno.

Because sufficient funds to cover the project will not be available until the start of the new fiscal year in July, however, the contract cannot formally be signed until then, nor can work on the buildings be begun.

The board, meeting at College of San Mateo, expressed gratification that the second round of bidding on Skyline yielded figures less than one per cent above the architect's estimate.

Initial bidding, earlier in the year, had ranged upward from 19 per cent above estimate.

At that time, trustees rejected all bids, ordered a $600,000 reduction in the work planned on the two major campus components involved — the science-technical center and fine arts center — as well as inclusion of the gymnasium, in an attempt to encourage more competitive bidding, and sent the new "package" out for another look by interested contractors.

As a result of this delay, required to bring the job within the necessary financial bounds, the timetable for opening of Skyline will have to be moved back to 1969, according to Supt. Julio L. Bortolazzo.

Previously the board had hoped for completion by September, 1968.

Meanwhile, trustees learned last night that thanks to a judicial ruling denying an injunction in a taxpayer's suit against the district's second new college, Canada, preliminary work on that project has commenced.

And there is still a "fighting chance," according to Dr. Bortolazzo, that this campus, which straddles the Redwood City-Woodside line, will be ready for students by the start of the 1968 fall semester.

For the record, in this connection, Trustee Francis W. Pearson Jr. of Redwood City asked that the architect submit a report on the effect of the legal action in stalling Canada construction, in case the present completion target date now proves impossible to realize.

Exact total of the Skyline first-phase cost is still uncertain. Engstrom & Nourse's low base bid was $5,530,000, but the board may decide to add in one or more relatively minor items before actually awarding the contract.

The San Francisco construction firm is currently engaged in building a $5 million auditorium-theater at University of California, Berkeley, and a space engineering facility at Stanford. Recently completed Engstrom & Nourse jobs include the undergraduate library and graduate school of business at Stanford.

Driver Dies In Collision

A 76-year-old San Bruno driver died at 6:20 p.m. last Tuesday. He was taken to Peninsula Hospital with head injuries suffered in an 11:37 a.m. auto accident at the El Camino Real and Sneath Lane intersection in San Bruno.

Fatally injured in the crash was Fred Wood of 1025 Montgomery, San Bruno, whose car was struck on the right side by a vehicle driven by Elmer Earl Hill, 53, 301 Templeton Avenue, Daly City.

San Bruno police said Hill and Florita Wood were injured, but released from Peninsula Hospital after treatment and x-rays.

Authorities said the Wood vehicle, which was eastbound on Sneath, rolled north across Sneath on the east side of the intersection after the impact, smashing into parked car at the north-east corner of the intersection.

The Hill vehicle was northbound on El Camino, in the slow lane, police said.

Wood is survived by his wife, Florita; a son, Frederick H. Wood, San Bruno, and three grandchildren.

A retired steamfitter, he was a native of Hayward and a resident of this county seven years.

He was a member of the Amity Seal Rock Masonic Lodge of San Francisco, and a member of the Senior Citizens of San Bruno.

Funeral services were held Friday at 4 p.m. at Chapel of the Highlands, Millbrae, with private inurnment at Skylawn Memorial Gardens west of San Mateo.

Thief Takes Keys, Later Cracks Safe

A South San Francisco service station was burglarized Thursday night after someone stole the keys to the office safe earlier in the day, police reported.

Officers said the safe at Webb's Chevron Station, 119 Mission Road, was opened during the night and approximately $46 in cash was taken.

Seven Pupils Win Awards

Seven San Mateo County high school students were honored last week at a Junior Achievement awards night dinner in San Francisco.

The Junior Achievement program, sponsored by the business community to further interest in the workings of business, allows high school students to operate their own "companies" and to function in these endeavors like actual businessmen.

Honored last night were: Bret Rios of Aragon High School, San Mateo, an outstanding junior member of the program.

George Walther, 18, 279 Chestnut Street, San Carlos, best salesman.

Mary Armstrong, 16, 3075 Atwater Drive, Burlingame; Ronald Medina, 18, 406 Accadis Street, Daly City; George Ruel, 17, 115 Escanero Drive, South San Francisco; and Kathi Walther, 17, 1133 Cortez Avenue, Burlingame.

Performance By Chorus, Orchestra

Abraham Lincoln PTA will host the school's annual Spring Concert, June 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-use room.

Performing will be the Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Joan Hammond, and The Honor Orchestra, under the direction of Robert Steele.

Also included in the program will be Miss Carol Lepo's room, with African music selections.

Recreation on Bruno Mt.: No Private-Public Conflict

There appears to be no "major conflict" between "private plans" of the Crocker Land Company and public recreation plans for the Crocker firm, Mrs. Fassler told company officials there is no need to meet with supervisors again until definite plans have been "jelled."

When Supervisor Robert St. Clair asked if any thought is being given now on annexation to any neighboring community, Morton answered that was still a technical question depending on future engineering.

"We have no thoughts, no commitments, no plans on this matter," Morton answered. "We expect the experts will include recommendations in their plan. We have an open mind on it."

Noting the present plan calls for large green belt areas, St. Clair questioned if this was not due to steep slopes.

Morton pointed out a golf course is anticipated.

Douglas St. John, project manager from the Bechtel Company, explained that an "executive type" golf course is planned.

The course, St. John reported, will consist of four par four holes, with the balance par three holes.

"This type of course is popular for people who do not have time to play a full course or wish to train their children," St. John amplified. Whether the course will be public or private has not been determined, the developers stated.

When questioned by Supervisor William Werder that the company meant when it said the development must be "economically feasible" Morton replied that his firm expects a "reasonable profit."

"We do not propose to get in and get out. It is the Crocker philosophy to stay in."

Noting that the company planned to lease much of its property, Morton added, "we plan to be there for almost forever. But this must be economically sound. We don't expect to lose a large amount of money. We must justify the expenditure of many millions of dollars."

St. Clair pointed out that the Regional Planning Committee has recommended a regional park in this area and asked the company's stand on this. Mrs. Fassler, citing 1,400 acres of open space, asked if the company planned to dedicate this land or make it part of its planned community.

Morton replied that an agreement must be reached on "what kind, what type of park the people can afford."

He said the company suffered 33 grassfires last year, and said the company is concerned about "unkempt, abandoned public space."

Escort Attacks S.S.F. Woman

A South San Francisco woman was brutally beaten and possibly raped last Tuesday morning after allowing a strange man to accompany her home from a Grand Avenue coffee shop, police reported.

Officers said the woman, 33, was found in a state of semi-consciousness in her blood-spattered apartment about 6 a.m. Tuesday after she telephoned her mother for help.

She is undergoing treatment for "severe head injuries" in the intensive care unit of Peninsula Hospital, where she is reported in serious condition.

Officers said a taxi driver reported taking the victim and an unidentified male companion to her apartment about 2:30 a.m. Tuesday.

She reportedly met the man in a coffee shop between 2 and 2:30 a.m., police said. The attack occurred between 2:30 and 5:30 a.m.

Her sister, police said, went to the apartment after the victim telephoned her mother, and reported finding the woman "dazed and covered with blood," police said.

Thieves Pull Gun On Householder

A South San Francisco woman was threatened and "roughed up" last Tuesday when she surprised two armed men in the process of burglarizing her home, police said.

Officers said Mrs. Geraldine Nieri, 541 Grand Avenue, was confronted by two men in a bedroom of her home about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday when she returned from a Senior Citizens' Club meeting.

Upon reaching her home, Mrs. Nieri noticed a strange automobile in the driveway, but "didn't think anything about it," officers said.

She entered the front of the house, and heard noises in the bedroom, but assumed her husband was home.

When she walked past the bedroom door, one of the men stepped out with a gun and shoved her into the room, threatening to shoot if she called for help.

The two men were described as white males in their early thirties, and both were "clean-cut and neatly dressed," police said.

Approximately $25 was taken from a purse in the house.

Fire Starts In Bedroom

A fire possibly started by children playing with matches caused an estimated $6,000 damage in the bedroom of the Pacific Heights home, causing extensive damage to the room, severe smoke damage throughout, and charring several doors.

Damage to the structure was estimated at $4,000; to contents, $2,000.

There were no injuries, firemen said.

Augie's New Look And Policy Crowd Pleasers

PHYLISS AND AUGIE APRILE deserve the "red rose" of the week for the "New Look and Policy" now in effect at their completely remodeled Augie's on Third Avenue. Along with delicious lunches and dinners, Augie's invites you to dance to the music of The Lamplighters Three, Friday and Saturday evenings. Last Friday's new policy celebration was a fun experience, with the musical trio playing the kind of music you can really dance to, as well as being entertaining. The ultra-modern San Mateo club was wall-to-wall with happy celebrants.

The Leaning Tower restaurant in South San Francisco will not be open Memorial Day. The Ercoli brothers are heading for Pebble Beach to do some golfing. Joe, who just started the game, has a sizeable bet going on the day's rounds with one of the Bay Area's top linksmen.

Phyllis Aprile

MARY ANN HAY is back on the bandstand at Nick's in Pacifica after a visit to Lake Tahoe's South Shore to enjoy the music of her favorite orchestra leader, George Liberace. Under the stand she plans to make a second album in the very near future, with Mr. Liberace in musical attendance. Stickney's of San Mateo might well label itself as the only New York City restaurant west of the Hudson River: not only is the restaurant located just off Fifth Avenue, but it's directly across from Central Park—in this case, San Mateo's beautiful Central Park. What's more, it has some of the best New York steak dinners you will find around this or any other town, served nightly in the fabulous Staccato Dining Room. Although Fabbro's in Redwood City is famed for its steaks and Italian dishes, owner Frank Fabbro invites you to try his tantalizing seafood favorites. The Abalone Steak and Lobster Tail are true gourmet delights.

Mary Ann Hay

PIANIST CHARLEY KELSO's nightly sing-alongs are becoming more and more popular with patrons of Bruno's in downtown San Mateo. If you have difficulty remembering the lyrics of some of the old favorites, owners Tom Zucchelli and Chef Bruno Fava recently installed a machine which flashes the words on the wall behind the piano. Another reason for the wall-to-wall crowds at Goman's Gay 60's besides the large array of topless dancers, and the music and songs of Russell Lee and The Sleepwalkers and Birdie Lee, is that for the first time the Gay 60's has gourmet foods at restaurant prices instead of higher niter prices. Noted Chef Charles Soublet serves dinners 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. as low as $2, and snacks midnight to 2 a.m. from $2.50. Bumper strippers are being passed out at the door, as the crowds continue to throng to the Drag-on A-Go-Go, one of Chinatown's top night clubs. Go-Go dancer Sandy and The Vikings are providing the dance action.

Tom Zucchelli

SAN MATEO COUNTY SUPERVISORS were hosted at a special luncheon at the Carrousel du Soleil restaurant by owner Ralph Oswald, Jean Fassler, Jim Fitzgerald, Bill Werder, Louis Chess, Bob St. Clair and Bob Stallings autographed their sketches drawn by talented San Mateo artist, Ruth Griffin. The happiest "Happy Hours" ever can be found evenings in the lounge of the Blue Peacock in Millbrae. Relaxers are the way you like 'em, and the plush surroundings make for an after-work haven. A special retirement luncheon in honor of Mrs. Debbie Valentino was held at The Iron Duke restaurant, yesterday, 50 of her fellow workers in the Planned Accounting Department of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. honored her. Mrs. Jeannie McDougall was in charge. Edith and Lew Lehr are back at the steak house in SF's Marina after attending the National Restaurant Convention in Chicago.

Bob Stallings

GUIDO BIANCHINA and Joe Selmi of the J and G Restaurant and Bar need no introduction to Bright Lights' readers, as their names have appeared on these pages for the past eight years. Specialty of this typical "North Beach" restaurant, where everyone knows his neighbor, is Italian food—cooked to order by the master chef Joe Selmi and served family style. Guido Bianchina is the friendly bartender, who, like in the Jackie Gleason television bar sequence listens to the tales of his customers as he "sets 'em up." At the mention of baseball, all the gimmick games in the bar section stop. The regulars take their seats to watch television or listen to the radio. They "fire" the managers, over-rule the umpires, and have "fears in their beer" when the Giants lose. I still think the "Working Man's Stork Club" is a fitting name for this wonderful bit of "old Italy."

Joe Selmi

MICKEY COHEN, President of the North County San Mateo Realty Board, is almost addicted to the beef pies served at the New Southern restaurant, South San Francisco. Whenever they're featured on the menu, restaurant co-owner and long-time pal Reno Donati either calls Mickey or personally delivers a pie to his office. New in the show at the Galaxie is Sandi Sinclair and her sensational topless dancing, and music and songs of Larry Younger and The Epics Sextet. With the Original Amateur Topless Contests every night, it's a wow of a show. Chef George Bollag suggests a delightfully-tasty dish at his L'Auberge in Atherton: Smoked Salmon with Sour Cream and Caviar. This regal treat should be accompanied by one of the fragrant Moselle wines. Cap it off with their incomparable Strawberry Romanoffs.

Reno Donati

FORMFUL LUISA LA NORTENITA, one of the most delightful señoritas to ever appear at Luz Garcia's San Francisco Sinaloa, is receiving her share of the evening applause from the huge throngs who gather at this Powell Street cantina nightly, except Sunday, to enjoy the Mexican food and exciting all-Latin entertainment. For a luxurious evening of dining in San Francisco, first enjoy the man-size cocktails at Gold Street for only 60 cents. Then, for a mere $3.50 per person, complete steak dinners including salad, potato and beverage are served to you by your waiter on a portable barbecue cart brought to your table. Sassy Sophia is currently astonishing audiences with her sensational limbo acrobatics nightly at Pierre's, Broadway and Columbus, in San Francisco.

Luisa

STACY O'HARA
Cameo Club

Stacy O'Hara "Tops" at Cameo

A luscious red-head tells only part of the story about Stacy O'Hara, the pert new Topless go-go dancer at the Cameo Club. With dark-green eyes and a curvy figure, she's capturing everyone's fancy. Don't miss this wholesome "girl-next-door" charmer and the electrifying Changs, who perform unbelievable acrobatic feats.

New 'Cork' Room About to Open

The beautiful, new cocktail lounge at the Fork 'n' Cork on El Camino Real is almost completed. Aptly named the "Cork" Room, it not only will offer an intimate spot for relaxing, but will provide only the best in the way of musical entertainment. Sparing no costs, co-owners Vic Proul and Joerg Krumpolz have purchased a $7,000 piano bar of white formica, with black keys. Both restaurant and bar will not be open on Monday and Tuesday, May 29-30.

Even though it's advertised that Bob and Dorothy Masuda do not open their Fuji Sukiyaki restaurant on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, your Bright Lighter still finds himself stopping by (out of habit) for some of their wonderful Japanese food. If you, too, fancy home cooked dishes of Japan, this little San Mateo restaurant is for you.

A big salute to Kenny Baker for his designing of the fantastic costumes for the new Finocchio show. Far from run-of-the-mill show wardrobe items, these glamorous gowns worn by the female impersonators are individual masterpieces, and contribute greatly to the enjoyment of the performance. Especially impressed by the new show was Ethel Merman, the Broadway show star, who saw it twice with parties of friends.

The prime quality of steaks served in the Upper Level steak restaurant of the Villa Hotel attracts droves of conferees attending meetings at the Villa Hotel.

PHIL LEHR CONGRATULATES MEL FERRER on the new movie, "El Greco," that Ferrer produced and starred in, when Mel and 20th Century Fox executive Norman Delaney (right) held a dinner-party in the elegant Wellington Room of Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco.

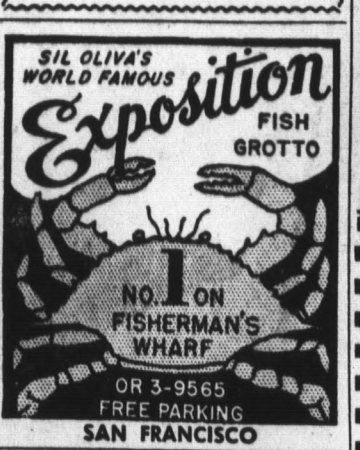

Pea Soup Served "Shadows Fashion"

Pea soup has always been one of my least-requested "meal-time accessories." But little did I know that I was to be converted, last Monday evening, when stopping in the San Mateo Shadows for dinner. Pea soup was the soup du jour—and host-owner Dave Rasmussen suggested I give it a try. As you might know, your Bright Lighter is now a pea soup served "Shadows Fashion" fan. Fact is, it was so good that we took advantage of their take-out policy by returning to the office with a quart for a late-night snack.

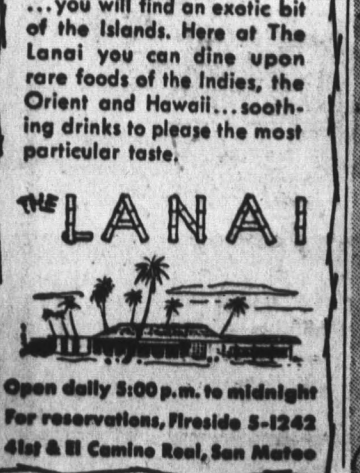

A richly satisfying experience is in store for those who have yet to visit the Matterhorn restaurant, which is under the most capable guidance of veteran restaurateurs Wilfried and Marion Blarer. Located on California Drive, Burlingame, this Swiss restaurant lists everything from Wiener schnitzel to Bratwurst, to filet and New York steaks on the luncheon and dinner menus. Also a wide selection of wine and beer, both imported and domestic, to complement your meal.

Have missed seeing my pal Vince Licata, the Peninsula's Italian and Seafood restaurant Midas, of late. However, "my spy" Chuck Herschler, the super Cadillac salesman, said he dined here the other p.m. and every table in the house was filled. So he and his charming wife, Virginia, "Rex Soled" at the counter.

Sketch Artist Added to The Rudolfo Scene

Hear future operatic luminaries as well as crooning hopefuls in the swingin' piano bar at Art Alfinito's Rudolfo's, Palo Alto. Another innovation at the celebrated steakhouse (charcoal-broiled, prime beef) is artist Daryl Brotman, who draws clever caricatures of the customers every evening at no charge.

The next time you're dining in the beautiful Royal Hall of the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, try the Double Cut French Lamb Chops. Served with Apple Mint Jelly and Grilled Tomato, it's positively delicious!

Raves A-Plenty For Villa Chartier Maine Lobster

Dapper Budd Reininghaus, San Mateo Roos-Atkins store manager, mentioned during our Tuesday swim session at Ray and Clare Stearns Health Club that he had taken a group of business executives to the Villa Chartier and suggested Maine Lobster as their dinner entree. One guest happened to be from Maine and told Budd that the Villa Chartier prepared it "just the way they do at the Hotel Touraine." Budd informed him that the Villa Chartier owner, Emerson Murfee, has the lobster flown in fresh daily.

Co-Champs

The North Peninsula League has co-champions and the South San Francisco High School Warriors have the berth in the coveted Sectional Baseball Tournament.

Coach Bob Brians' lads rallied boldly in yesterday's final day of NPL action to edge Jefferson, 1-0, and win their third conference baseball title in the last five years.

The victory gave the Warriors a 9-3 mark and a first-place tie with El Camino.

"Bob Aurigemma pitched a magnificent ball game and our kids backed him up with a great defense," stated the jubilant Brian after the game.

The victory gave the Warriors an automatic invitation to the Sectional Tournament, which started yesterday at Buck Shaw Stadium and Washington Park in Santa Clara. The tournament brings together the champions of eight different leagues, including the NLP, Mid-Peninsula League and South Peninsula Athletic League.

The Warriors opened up Tuesday afternoon against the winner of the Monterey Bay League champion. Camino accepted a bid to play in the rugged Marin Tournament of Champions.

Jimmy Evangelist led off the bottom of the fifth with double. Aurigemma sacrificed him to third. Then, with the count 1-1 on third baseman Larry Alsterlind, Evangelist picked up the steal sign and pilfered home and the undisputed championship right out of the hands of El Camino.

Aurigemma gave up four hits and no walks. The Warrior hurler threw only 78 pitches.
